

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS AND RECOGNITION

The successes of PEACESAT are due to the good will of many people and institutions. This page attempts to recognize and acknowledge the efforts of the people and institutions that have contributed to the program over the many years.

The page also provides a second function. It serves as a basic information resource on some of the contributors to PEACESAT and public service telecommunications over the years.

The list of people and institutions is far from complete. Many more have helped in many different ways. Any failure to recognize individuals and institutions is due to a personal deficit in knowledge of the institutional history of PEACESAT. If you wish to have someone recognized for their efforts in this page, please submit any nomination to me.

Norman H. Okamura (norman@tipg.net)
Social Science Research Institute
University of Hawaii